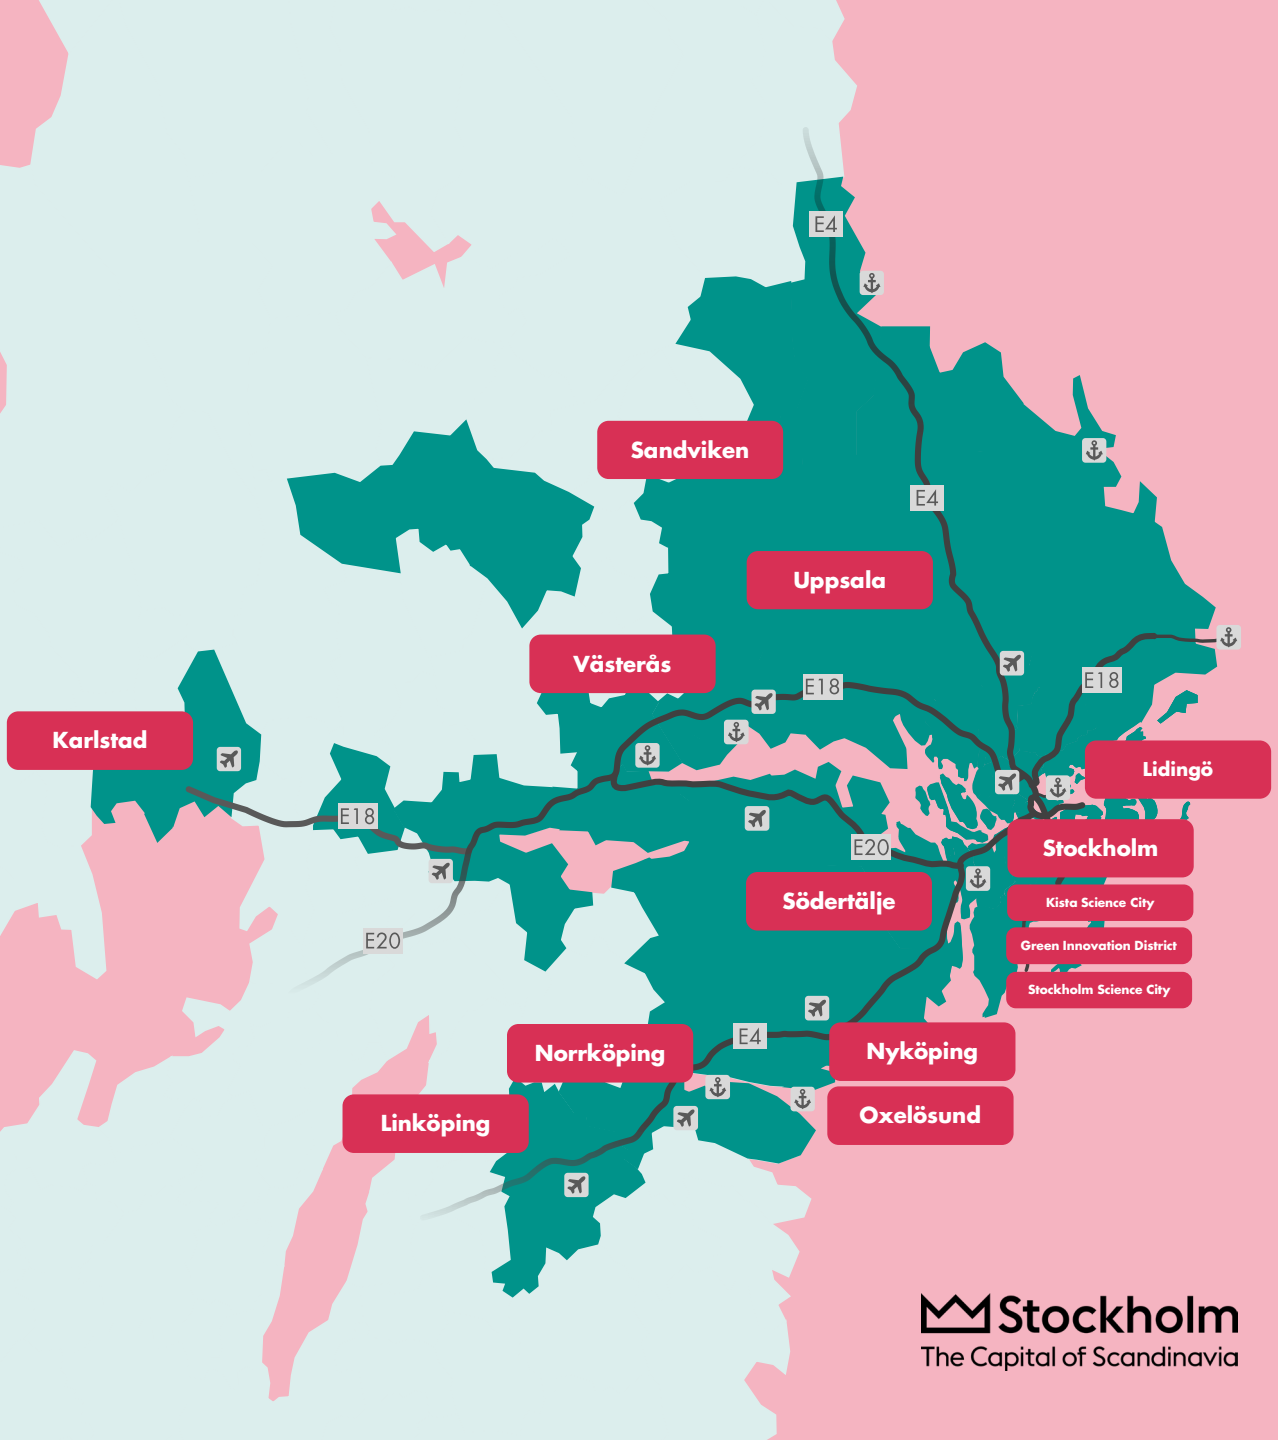
This map highlights key innovation clusters across the Stockholm region

Click on each cluster to learn more about its industries, companies, and research initiatives.

The Stockholm region is a leading global hub for innovation and technology, known for its strong startup ecosystem, cutting-edge research, and collaborative culture. With a skilled workforce, a robust capital market, and a focus on sustainability, the region attracts top talent, investors, and businesses looking to grow.



Stockholm
The Capital of Scandinavia